

As the largest educational institution of the Oldenburg Münsterland, historically and regionally embedded, the University of Vechta of today is international and future-oriented. About 5,000 students and more than 500 employees research, teach, work, and study in this modern campus university in the heart of Lower Saxony.

At the Institute for Gerontology (IfG) of the University of Vechta, a part-time position in the field of “Aging and Work” is to be filled as soon as possible - initially limited to a period of 1.5 years with the option of prolongation:

Researcher*

Pay grade 13 TV-L¹, 66%

Job profile:

Participation in the research project “Exclusion and Inequality in Late Working Life: Evidence for Policy Innovation towards Inclusive Extended Work and Sustainable Working Conditions in Sweden and Europe (EIWO)”, in particular the development and execution of secondary research analyses

Participation in the research project offers the opportunity for international cooperation with researchers* from Sweden, Poland and the United Kingdom. A doctorate is possible; applications from postdoctoral researchers* are also welcome.

Skills profile:

- relevant university degree (Master’s/Diploma) in social sciences or labour economics
- very good knowledge of methods, especially quantitative
- very good knowledge of English
- experience in advanced evaluation methods (sequence analyses) of longitudinal data (SOEP, SHARE, etc.) and in research of the course of life are advantageous

If you have any questions, please contact Prof. Dr. Frerich Frerichs (frerich.frerichs@uni-vechta.de).

Please send your application with the relevant documents, indicating the code 20/49/IfG, via e-mail (in one pdf file) until the 15th of September 2020 to

Präsidium der Universität Vechta bewerbung@uni-vechta.de

The University of Vechta is a family-friendly university and offers numerous opportunities for balancing family obligations and professional responsibilities within the framework of service agreements for flexitime and home office. The university values and promotes the diversity of people at the university and actively advocates equal opportunities. This self-image is decisive for all selection procedures. Severely disabled persons are given preferential consideration if they are equally suitable.

¹ Tarifvertrag für den öffentlichen Dienst der Länder (collective agreement for the public sector of the federal states)